

THE EARTH MAMA Difference

Earth Mama Organics manufactures effective herbal care to safely support the most fragile population on the planet: pregnant and breastfeeding women, and their babies. Founded in 2002 by a nurse and herbalist, Earth Mama's products address the entire journey of motherhood: the miraculous wonders and the common indignities experienced by women during pregnancy, postpartum and breastfeeding, plus infant care and even the loss of a baby.

Earth Mama believes in the body's ingenuity, and its innate ability to compensate for everyday toxins. But, like all systems, it can get overloaded. Each ingredient in every Earth Mama product is very thoughtfully and carefully researched and chosen to safely support the body, using nature as our pharmacy.

Trusted by doctors, midwives, neonatal intensive care units, lactation consultants and mamas worldwide, Earth Mama takes a modern approach to herbal care, combining generations of women's wisdom about traditional plant medicine with evidence-based research. The result? Certified organic herbal teas, plus herbal body care, all formulated with as organic-as-possible ingredients to be safe for pregnant and breastfeeding women, and their families.
